

IDEA JOURNAL

July 2020

Published by the Illinois High School and College Driver Education Association

President's Message

Welcome to all Association members from myself and the rest of the Executive Committee. I hope that this Summer Journal finds all of you and your families healthy and relaxed after this 4th of July weekend! After these past few weeks, I want to assure you all that the Executive Committee members have been working together on a regular basis to help support you and your DE programs under some dire circumstances that none of us thought we would ever be dealing with in our professional lifetimes.

What a new crazy world we now live in! Nobody back in mid-March thought that school districts, teachers and students would be shut down through the end of school. I, like most of you, never thought students and teachers would finish the school year through what I thought were only futuristic ideas such as distance and remote learning for DE classroom. Faced with 3-months of school closures, the IHSCDEA had the insurmountable task of negotiating with the Governor's Office on how DE instructors could safely complete the mandated BTW hours with our students in a timely fashion. Kicking the can down the virtual road was simply not an option. I want to tell everyone reading this Journal that these decisions to reinstate the BTW driving makeup hours "didn't just happen."

The strength of the IHSCDEA really comes down to each individual member that pays their annual membership dues and ultimately supports the leaders and direction of this Association. If not for the professional bond that we share with other traffic safety advocates within Illinois, it is doubtful that PHSDE driving would have started as early as it did.

When things return to "normal", will all virtual learning cease?

Not for many Illinois state schools who have been using simulation-based driver education for years to complement traditional classroom and behind-the-wheel methods. Click here to read more about modern simulators and how they are being used in the classroom.

Keeping students engaged is sometimes difficult even when the teachers and students are face to face in the same room. Since March, we've all jumped head first into distance learning and it's been HARD! This article entitled, "6 Strategies for Successful Distance Learning," provides some tips to help teachers navigate these uncharted waters.

If you are in need of any assistance navigating online learning resources please reach out to us! We know some really great teachers who are excellent at utilizing digital technology!

Also, if you are already using online learning in your classroom curriculum and would feel comfortable sharing ideas or mentoring another teacher please let us know! We would love to connect you with a teacher in need of assistance!

Contact Elizabeth for more information!

Once again, we know this has been a challenging time and we appreciate what each and every one of you has done to make the best out of this situation. Your dedication is a true reflection of your passion!
